Paging Systems

So you want to buy a paging system. Paging systems come in 2 flavours. This includes 70 volt paging systems, and self amplified paging systems. If you are purchasing a 70 volt paging system then you will need an amplifier, and if you are looking for a self amplified paging system then you will need a page zone controller. You have to make sure that the number of amps. in your paging system (calculated by adding the total amperage from the watts in the horns), is less than the AMP's made available from the paging system AMP itself. Hope this helps clear things up !
